Volume 1, Issue 6

CHINO HILLS 55+ CLUB

With our pajamas back in the bedroom from last month's meeting, we're on to breakfast: enjoy the celebration of donuts today!

Our speaker today will be Robert Ralston of OneLegacy. He will talk with us about organ donation and the importance of being a donor.

Lunch today will be at Limericks Tavern at The Shoppes. Come join us. Turnouts have been good.

We're still looking for interest in a craft fair for the summer. If you're crafty in any way, please let Jane know what your product is and that you're interested in participating. With the kickoff of our quilting group, perhaps the fair would be a good way to showcase new skills!

Event Recaps

Last month's speaker, Councilman Brian Johsz, spoke on Taking Back Our Community and brought new info to our group. He was able to gather many signatures after the meeting in support of his initiative for public safety.

Our day at the Santa Anita Race Track was a cool one with several horse-race fans attending. This event was in good company with the running of the Triple Crown races heating up.

Next Meeting is June 22, 2018

Next month's meeting theme will be patriotic. Think red, white, and blue...or stars...or stripes...or eagles...

Our speaker will be actress and playwright Eloise Coopersmith, who also conducts activities on self-awareness.
